141-221 boulevard Macdonald 75019 Paris Reconversion de l'entrepôt Macdonald

En même temps que l'arrivée des premiers occupants du 141-221 boulevard Macdonald, ce livre retrace l'histoire de l'entrepôt Macdonald et analyse en détail la reconversion de ce bâtiment aux dimensions hors normes et aux enjeux métropolitains. Son échelle et sa complexité font de ce projet exemplaire une référence unique en Europe. Pour en définir ses spécificités et son originalité, L'architecte Mathieu Mercuriali explore les notions fondamentales de l'architecture questionnées par ce bâtiment XXL, illustre ses problématiques au regard d'exemples internationaux et raconte son processus de gestation tant au niveau architectural, urbain que technique. Avec les contributions des principaux acteurs du projet, des reportages photographiques inédits du chantier en cours, des documents historiques, des diagrammes et des schémas d'analyse, cet ouvrage plonge le lecteur au coeur de la fabrication de ce nouveau morceau de ville.
